

PORTUMNA – OUR DATES WITH DESTINY!

In last week's edition of Eolas we described the unique situation that exists in Portumna Community School with our Senior Camogie team, our Senior Hurling team and the Portumna Senior Club Hurlers are all taking part in finals over the next week.

Well tomorrow all roads lead to Drom & Inch (just 5 miles on the Nenagh side of Thurles) when our camogie team take on St. Brigid's of Callan (Kilkenny) in the All Ireland Colleges Senior "A" Final.

The atmosphere has been building all week here in school, with a variety of activities helping to build up to the game. The girls and their management team can take great heart also from all the messages of goodwill that have been pouring in by email, text and post in recent days.

Space only permits us to print a few of these below but you can read the full list on the school website: www.portumnacs.com

We are anticipating huge support at the game tomorrow and we encourage everyone to play their part and give our girls the edge that comes from having such strong encouragement from the sideline. We all have a part to play tomorrow – so make your presence known in the most positive way possible. Best of luck girls and to the manager, Mr. Kelly, and all who have helped get the team to this unique occasion.

Some of the messages of goodwill received this week:

"Best wishes to Portumna Community School in the All Ireland camogie final"
(Cyril Farrell)

"Best of luck to all the girls in the All Ireland final – lead them to the Cup Lynchie!"
(Kiltormer Camogie Club)

"Wishing the Portumna Community School senior camogie team, all the very best in the final on Saturday."
(Sinead Cahalan & the Galway Senior Camogie Team)

"Best of luck in the All Ireland Final against the Cats."
(Kevin Broderick)

"Best of luck to Portumna Community School senior camogie team – come on girls, ye can do it, we're cheering for you."
(Portumna Camogie Club)

"Wishing the Portumna Community School senior camogie team all the very best in the final on Saturday. It is truly a tremendous achievement in which I congratulate management and players on your success so far. Best Of Luck."

"Best of luck and I hope everything goes well for ye against the Cats."
(Liam Hodgins)

(Michael Garrett, Past Student)
